Regulation Clarification Project

Staff of the Fair Political Practices Commission will hold two interested persons’ meetings, on Thursday April 14, 2011 at 10:00 a.m. and on Thursday, April 21, 2011 at 10:00 a.m., to solicit general public comment and suggestions on revising FPPC regulations or FPPC regulatory schemes and thus enable individuals and entities subject to the Political Reform Act\(^1\) (the “Act”) to better comply with the Act.

At the meetings, staff will solicit comments and suggestions on the following general topics:

- Existing regulations or regulatory schemes that are unclear, difficult to comply with, internally inconsistent, extraneous, or outdated.
- Any other comments or suggestions that will assist the FPPC in adopting and maintaining clear, consistent, up-to-date regulations that are easier for the regulated public to comply with.
- New regulations needed to implement or clarify specific statutory provisions in the Act.

You may participate in this interested persons meeting in person or by teleconference by calling (888) 751-0624; access code 723284. For questions about participating by phone, you may contact Virginia Latteri-Lopez at (916) 322-5660. The Commission also invites written comments addressing these topics. Written comments, or any questions about the meetings, should be addressed to Assistant General Counsel John Wallace or General Counsel Scott Hallabrin at (916) 322-5660 or by writing to either at the above address.
