Should You Amend Your Agency’s Conflict of Interest Code?

A conflict of interest code tells public officials, governmental employees, and consultants what financial interests they must disclose on their Statement of Economic Interests (Form 700). It is the basis for the transparency that California’s Political Reform Act requires of public officials. But how do you know if your agency’s code is what it should be? And how do you go about amending it? The information below may help you with these issues.

THINGS TO THINK ABOUT ...

- Is your current code more than five years old?
- Have there been any substantial changes to your agency’s organizational structure since the last code was approved?
- Have any positions been eliminated or re-named since the last code was approved?
- Have any new positions been added to your agency since the last code was approved?
- Have there been any substantial changes in duties or responsibilities for any positions since the last code was approved?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, your agency’s conflict of interest code will likely need to be amended. Each agency must complete the enclosed Biennial Notice and return it to their code reviewing body no later than October 1, 2014. The code reviewing body will provide further instructions on the code amendment and approval process.

If you have any questions, or you are still not sure if you should amend your agency’s conflict of interest code, please consider participating in a free webinar or a seminar at the FPPC. For more information, visit http://www.fppc.ca.gov/index.php?id=359.
