3   percent interest (Section 87103(e) see also Sections 82033 and 82034).

4           (d) To determine whether a public official has a prohibited conflict of interest under the 5   Act, apply the following:

6           (1) Step One: Is it reasonably foreseeable that the governmental decision will have a 7   financial effect on any of the public official's financial interests? To determine if the financial 8   effect is reasonably foreseeable, apply Regulation 18701. If the answer is no, there is no conflict 9   of interest under the Act. If the answer is yes, proceed to Step Two.

10          (2) Step Two: Will the reasonably foreseeable financial effect be material? To determine 11   if the reasonably foreseeable financial effect is material, apply Regulation 18702. If the answer is 12   no, there is no conflict of interest under the Act. If the answer is yes, proceed to Step Three.

13          (3) Step Three: Can the public official demonstrate that the material financial effect on 14   the public official's financial interest is indistinguishable from its effect on the public generally?
15   To determine if the material financial effect on any of the public official's financial interest is 16   indistinguishable from its effect on the public generally, apply Regulation 18703. If the answer is 17   yes, there is no conflict of interest under the Act. If the answer is no, proceed to Step Four.

18          (4) Step Four: If after applying the three step analysis and determining the public official 19   has a conflict of interest, absent an exception, he or she may not make, participate in making, or 20   in any way attempt to use his or her official position to influence the governmental decision. To 21   determine if the public official is “making, participating in making, or in any way attempting to 22   use his or her official position to influence a governmental decision,” apply Regulation 18704. If 23   the public official will be called upon to make, participate in the making, or use his or her official

1 position to influence a governmental decision in which he or she has a financial interest as 2 determined under Step One through Step Three, he or she will have a prohibited conflict of 3 interest.

4 (e) Exception: Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 87100 and 87103 and this 5 regulation, a public official may make or participate in a governmental decision in which he or 6 she has a prohibited conflict of interest if the provisions of Section 87101 and Regulation 18705 7 apply.

8 (f) Segmentation: To determine if an agency may segment a decision in order to allow a 9 public official to participate in a governmental decision by removing from consideration the 10 elements of the governmental decision in which the official would otherwise have a prohibited
11 conflict of interest, apply Regulation 18706.
