RE: Closure Letter-FPPC No. 13/468; Loren Suter

Dear Mr. Suter:

The Fair Political Practices Commission (“Commission”) enforces the provisions of the Political Reform Act (the “Act”) found in Government Code Section 81000, and following. As you are aware, the Commission investigated allegations that you violated conflict of interest provisions of the Act. Specifically, the Commission examined your role in negotiating a new contract for healthcare provider services on behalf of to the California Correctional Health Care Services Receiver’s Office.

Under the Act, no public official at any level of state or local government may make, participate in making, or in any way use or attempt to use his or her official position to influence a governmental decision in which the official knows or has reason to know he or she has a disqualifying conflict of interest. (Section 87100.) To determine whether an individual has a disqualifying conflict of interest, the Commission generally employs the following sequenced analysis: (1) is the individual a public official; (2) did the official make, participate in making, or use or attempt to use the official position to influence a governmental decision; (3) what are the official’s economic interests, (4) are the official’s economic interests directly or indirectly involved in the governmental decision; (5) what is the applicable materiality standard for each economic interest involved; and (6) is it reasonably foreseeable that the governmental decision will have a material financial effect on the official’s economic interest.<sup>1</sup> (See Regulation 18700.)

Under Section 87100, a conflict of interest exists when you, as a public official, make, participate in making, or attempt to use your official position to influence a governmental decision in which you know or have reason to know you have a “financial interest.” You have a “financial interest” in a decision, within the meaning of Section 87100, if it is reasonably foreseeable that the decision will have a material financial effect, distinguishable from its effect on the public generally, on you, a member of your immediate family, or, among other things, on any business entity in which you have an investment interest valued at $2,000 or more, any real property in which you have an investment interest valued at $2,000 or more, or on any source of income aggregating $500 or more which you received within 12 months of the decision. (Section 87103, subdivision (a), (b) and (c).)

We examined your role as project manager for administrative process and systems for the California Correctional Health Care Services Receiver's Office. Our investigation found no evidence that you received income from Blue Cross/Blue Shield at the time of the negotiations. The Commission has completed a review of the forgoing allegations and closed this case without finding a violation.

The Commission publishes forms and manuals to facilitate compliance with the provisions of the Act, so if you need forms or manuals, or guidance regarding your obligations, please call the Commission's Technical Assistance Division at 1-866-275-3772.
