Re: FPPC Case No. 09/705; Judy Dawson, Mae Cendana

Dear Ms. Cendana:

The Fair Political Practices Commission ("Commission") enforces the provisions of the Political Reform Act (the "Act")¹. As you may be aware, the Commission received a complaint against you alleging violations of the conflict of interest provisions of the Act. Specifically, the complaint alleges that you made and participated in making governmental decisions that had a reasonably foreseeable material financial effect on your real property while serving on the Ambrose Recreation and Park District Board. The Commission has decided to close this case without further action.

Under the Act, no public official at any level of state or local government may make, participate in making, or in any way use or attempt to use her official position to influence a governmental decision in which she knows or has reason to know she has a disqualifying conflict of interest. (Section 87100.) To determine whether an individual has a disqualifying conflict of interest, the Commission generally employs the following sequenced analysis: (1) is the individual a public official; (2) did the official make, participate in making, or use or attempt to use the official position to influence a governmental decision; (3) what are the official's economic interests. (4) are the official's economic interests directly or indirectly involved in the governmental decision; (5) what is the applicable materiality standard for each economic interest involved; and (6) is it reasonably foreseeable that the governmental decision will have a material financial effect on the official's economic interest.² (See Regulation 18700.)

As a member of the Ambrose Recreation and Park District Board, you are a public official under the Act. (Sections 82048 and 87200.) By voting and participating in discussions during an Ambrose Recreation and Park District Board meeting on April 30, 2009, you made and

The regulations of the Fair Political Practices Commission are contained in Sections 18110 through 18997 of Title 2 of the California Code of Regulations. ² The additional two steps of the analysis - whether the public generally exception applies and whether the individual is legally required to participate in the governmental decision - are inapplicable to this matter.

participated in making governmental decisions. Under Regulation 18704.2, real property in which the official has an economic interest is deemed directly involved if any part of that real property is located within 500 feet of the boundaries of the property which is the subject of the governmental decision. According to the complaint, you owned real property, at 169 Manor Drive, in Bay Point, at the time of the decisions. As your property is more than 500 feet from the property subject to the governmental decision, it would be indirectly involved. In this matter, the allegations in the complaint turn on whether it is reasonably foreseeable that a material financial effect on your economic interests would result from your votes and participation in discussions regarding these governmental decisions.

The Ambrose Recreation and Park District minutes show that you voted and participated in discussions in 2008 and 2009 to terminate negotiations with National Affordable Communities for the sale of park district owned property, know as the "Clearland Drive Property." Based on our investigation into these matters, there is insufficient evidence to establish that the financial effects of the governmental decisions you made and participated in making would cause a reasonably foreseeable material financial effect on your economic interests given the particular nature of the decisions. Therefore, we have decided to close this case without further action.

Even though we are closing our file on this matter, please be advised of the conflict of interest provisions of the Act (Sections 87100 and following.) in future decisions that you may make as a public official. The Commission publishes forms and manuals to facilitate compliance with the provisions of the Act. If you need forms or manuals, or guidance regarding your obligations, please call the Commission's Technical Assistance Division at 1-866-275-3772. Please also visit our website at www.fppc.ca.gov.
