Dear Supervisor Forster:

For purposes of complying with your reporting obligations under the Political Reform Act, here is the value of what you received from CSAC as part reimbursement of expenses traveling to CSAC for a meeting in January 2015.

*Income:
Travel Reim	$63.75
	_____
Total Income	$63.75

It is the responsibility of each individual public official to report applicable gifts and income to the Fair Political Practices Commission (FPPC). This information is provided to assist you in tracking the income and gifts you have received from CSAC in the event you are required to report them. CSAC does not report this information to the FPPC. As a reminder, gifts from a single source aggregating $50 or more in a calendar year must be reported. For 2013-2014, the gift limit is $440 from a single source for a calendar year. However, travel related to giving a speech or participating on a panel, while still a gift, is not subject to the $440 gift limit. Income of $500 or more from a single source must also be reported. Some locally-adopted county conflict of interest codes may have additional requirements.

If you have specific questions about your reporting obligations, you may contact the FPPC Hotline at 1-866-ASK-FPPC, or may wish to consult with counsel. If you have questions about the dollar values provided in this letter, please do not hesitate to contact me at 916-327-7500 ext.544 or koropeza@counties.org.

Thank you again for your continued support and involvement.

Sincerely,

* Though CSAC staff believes that the services you provided to CSAC in exchange for these expenses makes them income rather a gift, that decision will ultimately be made by the FPPC. It is incumbent upon each public official to prove that the payments or benefits received were equal to or less than the value of the services provided.
