- 7 (1) Deposit or allow deposit of the contribution with actual knowledge that the contribution exceeds the applicable limit.
- 9 (2) Make use of the contribution prior to returning it.
  - (b) For purposes of subdivision (a), a committee makes use of a monetary contribution if, after receiving the contribution, it makes expenditures exceeding what the committee's available cash balance would be had it not received the contribution that exceeds the applicable contribution limit.
  - (a) Attribution. A committee that elects to attribute a contribution, or a portion thereof, that exceeds the applicable contribution limit set forth in Section 85301, 85302, 85303, or 85316 to another election pursuant to Section 85319.5(a) or (b) must obtain written confirmation from the contributor that the contribution may be attributed to a different election except the committee may attribute a contribution, or a portion thereof, between a primary and general election for the same term of office without obtaining prior permission from the contributor.
  - (b) Non-monetary contributions. A committee that receives a non-monetary contribution whose fair market value, or a portion thereof, exceeds a contribution limit set forth in Section 85301, 85302, 85303, or 85316, may return the non-monetary contribution, or a portion thereof, either in its original form or in a monetary equivalent, or attribute the portion of the non-

1	(1) A committee that elects to automatically attribute a contribution, or a portion thereof,
2	that is in excess of the applicable limit between the primary and general elections as prescribed
3	by Section 85319.5(d)(2) must disclose the cumulative totals of contributions received for both
4	the primary and the general elections, respectively, in accordance with Regulation 18421.4.
5	(2) An amount transferred to another committee must be reported by the transferring
6	committee as an expenditure.
7	(3) An amount attributed to another committee must be reported by the committee that
8	receives the transfer as a contribution from the original contributor and identify the transferring
9	committee as an intermediary pursuant to Section 84302.
10	(f) Notification. For purposes of Section 85319.5(c), a committee shall be deemed to have
11	"informed" a contributor that their contribution was in excess of the applicable contribution limit
12	if the committee sends written notification to the contributor noting that their contribution
13	exceeded the applicable limit by the applicable deadline for returning or attributing the
