Re: Your Request for Informal Assistance
Our File No. I-01-062

Dear Mr. Camcam:

This letter is in response to your request for advice regarding the provisions of the Political Reform Act (the "Act").<sup>1</sup> You asked what informational material on the Political Reform Act is available for committees.

A committee has several sources of information available through the Fair Political Practices Commission. The Commission's website, www.fppc.ca.gov, contains up-to-date information on pending regulatory matters concerning all aspects of the Act. We are currently embarking on a major review of campaign disclosure rules. I have added your name and address to our Interested Persons List, which will notify you of upcoming events, as well as provide information on the project as it progresses.

Additionally, you may contact us in one of the following ways:

1. The FPPC website also contains the agendas for past and future Commission meetings and instructions on how to obtain relevant materials. Question and Answer sheets designed to address common questions to the Commission are available as well.
2. For more particular advice, you may reach a Commission consultant and receive telephone advice by calling 866-ASK-FPPC. While this advice does not afford the immunity provided recipients of written advice, telephone advice is ideal for routine questions that can be answered in a short time.

3. You may either provide or request information by submitting a facsimile addressed to the Campaign Reporting Task Force at (916) 327-2026 or via U.S. Mail to the Campaign Reporting Task Force at P.O. Box 807, Sacramento, CA. 95812-0807.

I have enclosed a copy of Regulation 18329 which will assist you should you need to submit a request for written advice.

If you have any other questions regarding this matter, please contact me at (916) 322-5660.

Sincerely,

Luisa Menchaca
General Counsel
